EDITOR'S COMMENT

The editors of the Brief wish to dispel the rumor that this publication is an unbiased, unprejudiced, open minded disseminator of fact. This publication is not even to be call "undergrounded". This print is for sale at your non-profit book store; (all you have to do is find your non-profit book store). If anyone is interested in writing for, or in rebutting, this publication--- contact your duly elected class representative.

Compliments

Compliments to our student government for their work on the notorious "two-semester rule". If you look closely at the new bulletin you may see what they accomplished. Although the rule still remains on page fifteen and although bolder type was used in the new printing, it seems that our own student government succeeded in having a hyphen removed from the fourth line thus improving the ascetic quality of our bulletin. Good Work!!

Our student government suffers from an infirmity all too common in governments: Inertia compounded with the fact that those that the rule hurts are never around long enough to complain and the fact that no one of any import is worried that sometime the rule might be applied to him.

Keep up the good work; student government we're benigned you all the way!

What ever happened to the person that ran for office in our student government on the platform of a 10% discount at our "non-profit" bookstore?????

NEW POLICY

Spearheading the administration's new drive for establishing a closer and more harmonious student-faculty-administration relationship is a revitalized registrar's office under able dictation. In their spare time and at their own expense, the entire staff has just completed a Dale Carnegie Course. No longer will students be subjected to shabby and impersonal treatment when merely seeking help or information. From now on all inquires will be greeted with a friendly and influential smile and a succinct:

"SHUT UP, GET OUT, AND DON'T COME BACK!!!"

Another Increase

Due to rising maintenance costs, unfortunately it will be necessary to raise tuition next semester in order to hire a new member for our crack one-man plant maintenance team. Our man in the fannel shirt, has put in unbelievable service this past year keeping our plant immaculate and in working order, but it has been an uphill battle all the way. With the new addition to his coffee-shop-office-workshop and a new member of our team, our plant problems should now be more efficiently and economically discussed and worried about. Keep up the good work, we're beholdin'.

NOTABLE QUOTES:

In once we trust: "My explanations are perfect, my clarity beyond reproach; if you don't get it the first time to repeat it is too much!"

A Constitutional Rite: "Keep busy taking notes and quit asking dumb questions and rattling those pages!"

WHAT'S THE LIMIT ?

Every assembly room in our school has been inspected by the City of Los Angeles and there has been a limit set on the number of occupants of each room at any given time. The limit is posted in every room. Exceeding that limit is a violation of "the law", even of a municipal code. Count the number of noses in your class room and you'll find our school breaking the law. There'll be an inspector here soon.

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE

Civil Disobedience is the proper method to correct grievances when other channels are non functioning. Our fine institution needs Civil Disobedience!! Imagine how fast grievances would be heard if the entire school was disrupted even for one day. UTTER HAVOC, if everyone showed up in bermuda shorts. Imagine--total chaos if no one wore shoes! They couldn't throw everyone out of school. Our school could not function. OUR VOICE WOULD BE HEARD!!! Mass picketing with cigars thru the halls. Every car parked backward in the lot. THERE IS NO TIME TO REASON TOGETHER: IT IS TIME FOR MASS ACTS! What if everyone carried food into class. They couldn't throw us all out. M'ASS IS THE ANSWER!!!!!!

"Corporeally we shall rise again if we can only find some moneymen. Let's look for them again today in the table of contents". "After these hot-shot liberals get done cleaning up everywhere else are they going to come back and integrate this place? It needs it."
